CarePoint Go mobile alert pendant

Help whenever – and wherever – residents need it

This lightweight, all-in-one mobile help button is worn around the neck and goes wherever your residents go. With an advanced GPS locator and two-way voice communication, it ensures users they'll be connected to a dedicated responder who can assist them in the getting the proper help day or night. It's one more way you can count on CarePoint to help you build a better community experience.

Features and benefits

Two-way cellular voice communication allows residents to connect with a designated responder

Fall-detection technology automatically places a help call, if a fall is detected

GPS locating technology helps determine the resident's location in an emergency

Water resistant so pendants can work in the shower where falls are most common

Rechargeable battery can last up to four days on a single charge
